cemetery, which is approximately 27 acres, was acquired in three separate transactions. The original cemetery on the north end was acquired before 1899 and consisted of a little over 2 acres. The earliest head stone is dated 1874. On March 11, 1899 the Corwith Township Board of Health purchased approximately 10 acres. In March of 1944 more land was purchased, which brings the cemetery to its present size. For more information please contact our cemetery administrator Patrick Coultas.

History of Corwith Township

Corwith Township was established in 1877. Corwith Township is a general law township and consists of approximately 108 sq. miles of land, which is equal to about 69,120 Acres. We have approximately 49 miles of primary roads and approximately 105 miles of secondary roads. Corwith Township is unique in many ways. The Incorporated Village of Vanderbilt sits within our boundaries. Also we have approximately 33,280 acres of state land that is called the Pigeon River Country Forest. There are several miles of rivers and streams that run through our township and we have several bodies of water. These are good for fishing and have camping sites and nature trails available.

Vanderbilt School Election Next Monday

By Tom Serino

The Vanderbilt Area Schools will be holding its annual election next Monday, June 10, 2002, in the Vanderbilt School library. The doors open at 7 a.m. and close at 8 p.m. The election features only one contested race however. Thelma Parkman Odykirk is challenging appointed member Raymond Musall, who filled a seat vacated by Tom Loshaw. This is a three year seat on the board. Parkman has submitted a brief biography of herself for publication in this issue of OUR HOME TOWN in response to a request for information to provide to the public. Parkman would be a new face to the board, while Musall has been elected to the position before, only to resign to accept a paid coach's job with the school. The two candidates running unopposed for the two 4-year terms are current school board member Gayle Black-Embree, and newcomer Sandra Dymond. These terms expire in 2006. Dymond has submitted a brief biography of herself for publication in this issue of OUR HOME TOWN in response to a request for information to provide to the public. Running unopposed for a one-year term expiring in 2003, to fill the unexpired term of Jack Staskievitz, is Tim McMillion. McMillion also has submitted a brief biography of himself for publication in this issue of OUR HOME TOWN in response to a request for information to provide to the public. Please see autobiographies elsewhere this page.

P&I Committee Eyes Water Sewer

by Tom Serino

The Vanderbilt P & I Committee met with representatives of various grant source and writing agencies last Thursday, May 29th, to see what grant sources would be most appropriate and available for a water-sewer project in Vanderbilt. Thomas Trimmer, Field Specialist with USDA Rural Development, along with John Peck of U.S. Department of Commerce, Economic Development for the Michigan and Wisconsin states, Lisa Fought with Northeast Michigan Community Service Agency and Janis Kellogg of the Northeast Michigan Council of Governments were all on hand to assist the Progress and Involvement Committee in discussing the

Thelma Odykirk

My name is Thelma Odykirk. I was born in Cheboygan County in 1942. We lived in Wolverine and with World War II going on, we moved to Zilwaukee so my dad could work in the plants in the area. So I was raised between Zilwaukee and Wolverine my whole life. I attended elementary and junior high in Zilwaukee and high school at Saginaw Arthur Hill. I married and had 4 children, Debbie, Tommy, Terry, and Jody Lynn. I lost my husband in 1975. I moved back home to Wolverine. Then I moved to Vanderbilt when my daughter Jody was in the 3rd grade, to help take care of my future in-laws who were ill. Then I married Mr. Odykirk in 1991. I have always been active and interested in which ever schools my children attended. I am interested in our school and our students. I would like to make a difference and to work to help make a difference, to try and let the students know just how important an education is now and for their future. How important it is to respect ourselves and others as well.

Sandra Dymond

My name is Sandra Dymond and I have owned property in Vanderbilt since 1983. I moved here in 1998 to be closer to my sister and her family. I have one daughter in the Vanderbilt Area School. I am a participant of the V.A.S. Technology Committee. I've served on the Otsego County 4-H council for two years and am currently the president. I am employed at H & H Tube & Manufacturing Company as the Systems Administrator, which involves anything related to computers. I am a graduate of Oakland Community College with an Associate's degree in Business Computer Programming. I am looking forward to serving the community as a member of the school board.

Tim McMillion

I moved to Vanderbilt in 1978 living with my parents Phillip and Pat McMillion. I started at Vanderbilt in the sixth grade and graduated in 1985. I then married Kyla Badgley that same year. We have been married 17 years this August. I then entered the United States Air Force where I was enlisted into Para Rescue then Security Police Special detail. Our daughter, Tabitha was born March 19, of 1986 and is currently a sophomore at Vanderbilt Area Schools. I then left the military in December of 1988. I then went back to college for criminal justice. I worked a few different jobs while going to school, including Bunker's Sawmill. On February 9, 1991, my son Brandon was born. He would end up suffering from many disabilities, which was and is still hard on our family, but he is very much loved by all who know him. I then was hired by the State of Michigan Dept. of Corrections. I worked in Jackson, Baraga, and then was assigned as a drill instructor for the Special Alternative to Incarceration program known needs of a growing community vis-à-vis the grant and or bonding issues, and monthly costs to homeowners for such a project. It soon became evident in the discussions, that not only did Vanderbilt have to demonstrate a need, but also that an education of the public of why Vanderbilt needed a water-sewer project had to take place in an effort to garner public support for the project at a grass roots level. "Without that grass roots," commented Peck, "the passage of a bonding issue would not be successful." That left the P & I Committee with the task of doing the research, in an effort to educate the public as to the need for water-sewer, with the goal of obtaining support for a bond issue in the future. Councilman Stuart Bates upon hearing the report at last Monday's meeting of the Village Council commented on the need for property on which to place a treatment plant, "We can't get ahead of ourselves on this project."

Housing Office Offers Last Chance Grants

By Tom Serino

The Otsego County Housing Committee is having a hard time getting rid of the balance of a $365,800 housing grant. With only seven months to go (the end of this year), there remains a balance of approximately $174,000 in home repair loans. The loans are available to low income homeowners with 0 deferred loans with no monthly payments, or zero to 3% interest notes. Marlene Hopp, Director at the Otsego County Housing office told OUR HOME TOWN, "These loans wouldn't be cutting into household expenses since there would be no payments due on the lower income loans." "Of course there will be a lien against the property, but homeowners win with these zero percent or 0 to 3 per cent interest rates. Tell your neighbors and friends about the program. The time is now to ask for an application. If funds are not used they will be sent back." added Hopp.

Gaylord Hosts Woody's Grass Drag Championship

by Pam Duczkowski, Gaylord Area Convention & Tourism Bureau

Snowmobile drag racing returns once again to Gaylord this coming October 21 and 22! The Gaylord Area Convention & Tourism Bureau has been asked by the officials of the Michigan Snowmobile Drag Race Association (MSDRA) to host the Woody's 2000 Championship Race. The races will be held at the race site on Milbocker Rd. off Dickerson Rd., between M-32 and West Otsego Lake Drive in Gaylord on Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 21 and 22. Racing starts at noon both days. Some of the top grass drag veteran teams from North America will be racing in Gaylord as they compete in this championship race. "This is the second year we've had the honor of hosting this championship weekend of Grass Drag Racing. Our track will be ready and as good as new" says Race Director Gordon Lee. Over 300 racers will be competing during this championship weekend. There will be vendor displays and food concessions available. Entry fees are: $5 -spectator entry; with children five and under free. Pit passes are $5 per day. Racer entry is $15 per day. Anyone needing racer information may call 517-731-6708. Spectator information can be received by calling 732-4000 or toll-free at 1-800-345-8621.

MEDICALLY SPEAKING

Cancer Clinic Opens in Gaylord

The cancer treatment clinic, a department of Otsego Memorial Hospital, offers a full range of injections, chemotherapy, and blood infusion. Patients also have complete access to the state-of-the-art services critical to evaluation of cancer treatments. CT (or CAT) Scans, MRI (Magnetic Resonance Imaging), blood tests, and other tests to diagnose and monitor a patient's status and progress, are available within walking distance of Donnell's 126 Shipp Street office. Donnell told OUR HOME TOWN, "I've been very pleased with the reception we've received from the service area." Cancer patients who long for undivided attention and the best care available may wish to call Robert L. Donnell, M.D., at his Gaylord office behind Otsego Memorial Hospital. Cancer patients who previously traveled 60 miles or more for chemotherapy are embracing the treatment offered by Dr. Donnell. Donnell specializes in hematology and medical oncology, which means diseases of the blood and cancer treatment. He participates in the most current national research trials and is constantly evaluating what additional services can be offered at his Gaylord office for the convenience of his patients. Receiving chemotherapy typically means treatments several days each week, with each treatment lasting from 15 minutes to three or four hours. Patients often need transportation to and from places of treatment. Roger O. Woodcum, formerly of Lewiston, now of Lakes of the North, has refractory anemia, a condition in which the blood fails to produce red blood cells, a condition he has had for the past three years. For six months, Roger has to receive blood transfusions every two weeks. He and his wife Evelyn, agree that of all of the places Roger has been treated, Dr. Donnell's office has provided the highest level of care and compassion. "I would recommend everyone come here," Evelyn said. "This is fabulous."

"Blowing off steam" can double risk of stroke

Men who believe it's helpful to "blow off steam" when they're angry may instead be headed for a debilitating stroke. Groundbreaking research at the University of Michigan shows that middle-aged men who express their anger by yelling, screaming or slamming doors have twice the risk of stroke than men who find a way to control their emotions. The picture darkens for men with a history of heart disease, as angry outbursts can trigger a blood clot that rockets to the brain and causes a stroke. Men with heart disease who explode with anger have six times the risk of stroke than men without heart disease, researchers found. "The study is significant because it's the first to report that outward expression of anger is related to increased risk of stroke," says Susan Everson, an assistant research scientist in U-M's School of Public Health who conducted the study. "It's important to find risk factors that are modifiable, and anger is one of those things that is potentially modifiable if people can recognize how they respond to anger-provoking situations. The third-leading cause of death in the country, strokes occur when oxygen is unable to reach the brain because an artery to the brain bursts or is blocked by a blood clot. Stroke is the leading cause of permanent disability in the United States, according to the American Heart Association. The more commonly recognized risks of stroke including smoking, excessive drinking, high cholesterol and high blood pressure. Researchers are unsure about the exact reason why anger can trigger a stroke. It may be related to a blood clot being loosened during an angry outburst, or an increase in blood pressure. There also may be hormonal changes brought on by anger that relate to blood clots. Everson's study examined middle-aged men from eastern Finland, who are participants in an ongoing 15 year study of risk factors for heart disease. Researchers are now looking for connections between anger and stroke in middle-aged women, says Everson. Moderation is the key to managing one's anger, Everson says. But that doesn't mean suppressing too much emotion: while too much outward anger increases the risk of stroke, holding it all in has been found to raise blood pressure. "It really suggests that you should learn to discuss your anger constructively and not let it reach explosive levels, not let it get to the point where you're going to express it in a way that is very aggressive or very nasty," she says. Suggestions for controlling anger are simple: · Take deep breaths. · Become physically active - take a walk, go for a run or shoot some hoops. · Count to 10. "All these things can allow you to calm down and then approach the situation again in a calmer state. It will probably allow you to discuss the situation rather than explode," Everson says. Everson's research was conducted at the U-M in collaboration with American Heart Association and the University of Kuopio in Finland. Facts about anger and stroke: · About 600,000 people suffer a stroke each year. · Stroke is the third-leading cause of death in the United States and the number 1 cause of permanent disability according to the American Heart Association. · Research shows men Alpena Public Schools, located in the cultural, economic, and educational hub of northeast, Michigan, is a Class A district. Serving some 5,600 students in 10 elementary schools, a junior high for grades 7-8, and a high school for grades 9-12, the district also operates preschool programs and an alternative high school and adult education center.

One of the largest geographic districts in the State of Michigan, Alpena Public Schools covers more than 620 square miles, encompassing all of Alpena County and, in Presque Isle County, all of Presque Isle Township and a part of Krakow Township. It's well-organized fleet of buses transports 80 percent of the student body each day, safely traveling some 825,000 miles per year.

Officially established as Michigan's first county-wide school district in 1963, Alpena Public Schools represents an aggregation of business people, farmers, professionals, service employees, youngsters, parents, retirees, clergy, all proud of their beautiful, bay-side community. Our mission as a school district reflects our close connection with the people we serve:

"Alpena Public Schools, in partnership with our community, teaches and challenges all students to become life-long learners and productive citizens."

Thunder Bay Junior High

Welcome to Thunder Bay Junior High. The education of approximately one thousand students occurs here yearly at the start of the first bell each fall. Seventh and eighth grade students come from all of Alpena County to learn required subjects, choose from a wide selection of elective classes, and participate in clubs, athletics, service organizations, etc. You can learn more about Thunder Bay by checking out the pages within this site. Thanks for stopping by.

THUNDER BAY JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL MISSION STATEMENT

The staff of Thunder Bay Junior High will provide a safe, personal learning center, which will focus on elevating students' academic and civic responsibilities. We have two specific goals.

- 1) Students will demonstrate improved knowledge and skills to resolve conflicts with their peer group and with authority figures.
- 2) Students will demonstrate improved knowledge and skills to read and understand academic and technical materials.
